Location of the Universal Motor Co.'s new $80,000 garage on Adams street just east of Main was decided Thursday by Frank Cullen, a well known contractor. Work on the mammoth garage is to start right away. It will be absolutely fireproof in construction and will contain 51,000 square feet of floor space.

Its dimensions are 120 by 200 feet and when completed the garage will be one of the largest in the state. More than half of it will be two stories in height. The attractive front will be trimmed in face brick and McDermott blue stone. It is to be very ornate in design and the display room will be spacious and beautifully finished. It will be modern in every detail and will be easily the largest garage in Southern Ohio when ready for occupancy. The plans and specifications were drawn by Architects Devos and Donaldson.

WILLIAM D. TRACY

When he fell off his bicycle in Canfield Road near Idora Park at 7 p. m. William D. Tracy, 10 was run over by a jitney bus driven by E. W. Horne, Hubbard Road, and instantly killed.

According to the statement made by George Kidd, 584 Willis avenue, the only eye witness who could be located by Motorcop Graham, the lad was riding towards Idora Park on his bicycle and turned out to allow an auto driven at a high rate of speed, going in the same direction to pass. He lost his balance and fell directly in the path of Mr. Horne's jitney bus. Two wheels of the car passed over the body. Mr. Kidd picked up the injured youth and rushed him to the City Hospital, but he was pronounced dead upon his arrival at the institution. Mr. Kidd stated that Horne was in no way to blame and the accident was unavoidable.

Horne was placed under arrest by Motorcop Graham on a charge of suspicion, pending investigation by Coroner M. E. Hayes.

The body was removed to Orr's Mortuary where it remained until after midnight before identification was made. According to the statement made by Mr. Kidd, Horne was in no way to blame as he was driving slowly at the time of the accident, and stopped within five feet after passing over the child's body.

The boy was born in Adams county Ohio, August 11, 1911, son of Herman and Blanche Tracy, and with his parents came to this city five years ago from Portsmouth. He attended the Westminster Presbyterian Church and through his bright sunny disposition made a host of little friends among whom his untimely death will be deeply regretted and widely mourned. Besides his parents a sister Evelyn Tracy survives—Youngstown Vindicator.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy are former residents of this city, and have many friends who will learn of their sorrow with regret. They resided on Robinson avenue for several years. Will D. Tracy was a grandson of Mrs. Nancy Forsythe 1717 Offshore street, and was planning on coming to Portsmouth for his vacation. Mrs. Forsythe attended the funeral.

Two New Water Stunts

"Consider the duck," says the Atlantic coast mermaid above who has picked up webbed gloves, saying they help her swim. "But who wants to swim?" queries Muriel Quackenbush, Washington, D. C., who's enjoying a cigarette and the season's best seller in her semi-submarine easy chair.

Physicians in Spain are expected to attend the poorer classes free of charge.

DEMPSEY ACCEPTS WILLIS' CHALLENGE

NEW YORK, June 29.—Jack Dempsey today formally accepted the challenge of Harry Willis, negro, for a bout for the world's heavyweight championship and requested that a conference be held to set the date.

Willis posted a $2,500 forfeit with his challenge two weeks ago and the commission gave Dempsey until July 10 to accept or be deprived of his title in New York state.

Dempsey's acceptance removed the danger of being shown off his title in the Empire state, as Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Wilson recently were. If no one is found to promote the match Dempsey and Willis obviously cannot meet and Jack will retain his crown.

Three Injured In Exciting Runaway

Mrs. Susie Colegrove and three year old daughter Hazel Marie and Miss Evelyn Whelle of near South Webster had a narrow escape from being thrown down a fifty foot bank into the Little Scioto river several days ago when the horse Mrs. Colegrove was driving ran away on Miller's hill near South Webster.

The two women and child luckily escaped with minor bruises although Mrs. Colegrove and baby were caught under the buggy when it lodged against a tree 20 feet down the steep bank.

Mrs. Colegrove is the wife of Thomas Colegrove and she invited Miss Whelle to go to the village with her. They had just left the Colegrove home a few minutes when the harness broke and caused the horse to run away. The road on the Miller hill is very narrow and when the horse ran away it caused the buggy to collide with one occupied by Burl Parks and his cousin Edna Boyer, these two being eye witnesses to the turning over of the buggy and its fall down the bank towards the river. Miss Whelle was thrown out when the buggy turned over the first time. The witnesses claim the buggy turned over twice before it lodged against a tree, the horse remaining hitched to the buggy.

The top of the buggy was badly damaged and the horse was slightly injured. Persons who visited the scene of the accident say that the tree is all that saved the buggy, horse and Mrs. Colegrove and baby from going into the river and that they were very fortunate in escaping with such minor injuries.

McCall Withdraws Candidacy

In confirming the report sent out from Columbus last night of his withdrawal as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General, Municipal Judge H. Stanley McCall stated Thursday that he entered the contest rather hurriedly and that since doing so he had found out that it would be impossible for him to make a proper campaign, owing to the heavy work in his court. He further stated that to have remained in the fight it necessarily meant that he would have had to neglect his duties on the bench, and this led him to the action in withdrawing his name from the ticket.

Refuses To Flip Coin To Decide Election

TOLEDO, O., June 28.—Thomas M. Devine, Socialist, today refused to flip a coin to decide the tie vote between himself and William H. Tucker, Republican, for the nineteenth ward council seat, contending that he was the councilman for the ward because council had decided the question when it seated him ten days ago.

Tucker had held since January 11 by virtue of a ruling of the appellate court that an ink marked ballot, cast for Tucker, giving him 1967 votes against 1906 for Devine was legal. Devine carried the case to the Supreme Court which reversed the lower court, again throwing the election into a tie. Devine, who has held the office for several years, was then given the seat by vote of council.

The election board today decided to refer the entire matter to the Secretary of State for settlement. In the interim Devine will hold the seat, it is said.

SUN KEEPS GRIP ON PRESIDENCY

CANTON, CHINA, June 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Undismayed by reports of further support for the move to unify China along lines which he had not approved, Dr. Sun Yat Sen is holding onto the presidency of the Canton government, with a tenacity apparently equal to that with which he clung to the ideal of a Chinese democracy in the days before the Manchus were overthrown.

Dr. Sun has set up his headquarters at the naval college at Whampoa, near here, and is firm in his declaration that when his army of invasion returns from Kiangsi province he will be able to retake Canton and reestablish the regime of which he is the head. Fifty thousand troops are compromised in this army, according to the best available estimates, while the forces of Chen Ching-Ming, who ousted Sun from his capital, are believed to be smaller.

"Offices" But Not "Branches" For National Banks—Crissinger

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger is understood to have virtually decided upon a policy toward the most question of the right of national banks to establish branches. He is said to take the view that "additional offices" might be established by national banks under proper circumstances, but that "branches" might not be maintained.

Belief was expressed at the treasury today that the comptroller would issue a formal ruling concerning the question in general, but that application of national banks for the privilege of opening additional offices would be handled on the merits of each individual case.

Service

Has New Meaning for Firestone Users

Service is a significant term to anyone using Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords.

Mileage is one way in which it has been given new meaning. The most exacting of tire-buyers—the big taxicab and motorbus companies and organizations using large numbers of automobiles for their salesmen—have been won to Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords by sheer proof of mileage superiority.

Service, as Firestone users know it, means greater dependability and uniformity of performance as well. This is because Firestone has adopted and held to such difficult but important processes as double gum-dipping of cords and air-bag cure.

Tire repairmen—experts in tire construction—will tell you that the Firestone carcass is the strongest and sturdiest ever built. Firestone users by the thousands have voluntarily written us of their great satisfaction with the extraordinary mileage they have obtained.

You can forget your tires if you equip your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords on all four wheels. You will have the assurance that you are getting the best and most economical service that money can buy.

The section of a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord at the right was taken after 20,994 miles on a Yellow Cab in Chicago. By comparing tread thickness with the section on the left it can be seen that only one-third is worn off. Over 11,000,000 revolutions with countless curb bumps, sudden starts and stops, road shocks and the destructive effect of frequent use of chains are examples of real tire service—indicative of the uniform performance of all Firestone Cords.

ADDRESSES OF CANDIDATES TO BE PLACED ON THE BALLOTS

COLUMBUS, O., June 29—Yield ing to requests that words of identification be printed in connection with names of candidates on the state primary ballots, Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith announced today that the addresses of all candidates will be printed immediately under their names.

Similarity of names, as two Smiths running for the Republican nomination for governor and two Browns for secretary of state, as well as the large numbers of candidates for most of the nominations led him to take this action, he said.

Smith declared he did not think anybody, candidate or voters would object to the words of identification. He had been requested, he said, to designate himself on the ballot as "Secretary of State and one of his opponents as 'Harry Clay Smith, colored'" but he declined to do this. Likewise it had been suggested that Thad H. Brown, candidate for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State, be designated as civil service commissioner and Clarence J. Brown, seeking the same nomination, as Lieutenant governor. By putting the addresses under the names, Smith said, all candidates would be treated alike and the voters task of locating on the ballot the men they wished to vote for would be made easier.

The state ballots will be mailed to County Boards of Election tomorrow, it was announced.

The practice of placing addresses on the ballots is a new one for Ohio, although it has been previously used in other states.

Judge Stanley McCall of Portsmouth, today withdrew as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General.

Vandenberg Is Ready To Tell Facts In Case

Declares He Had Suffered Three Years From Indigestion, Headaches And Dizziness And Only Found Relief When He Got Tanlac.

"I have only been taking Tanlac for about three weeks, but I have improved so much that I am ready right now to state that this medicine has proved a grand success in my case," declared Harry Vandenberg, 233 Segan Ave., Toledo, Ohio. "For three years or more I had suffered from nervous indigestion. My stomach was so upset that after meals I became deathly sick and was often unable to retain anything I had eaten. I had nervous sick headaches continually, was more or less affected with rheumatism in my joints and my condition was just that miserable, half-sick no account feeling that makes work a burden. "However, Tanlac has put me on my feet again, and I no longer have sick stomach or headaches; seldom experience any pain in my joints, and have actually gained eight pounds in weight. I am still taking Tanlac and expect to keep a bottle on hand for I see it can be depended upon for results. "Tanlac is sold by all good drug-gists.—Advertisement.

One Is Killed; Many Are Hurt In Wreck Of Prisoner-Laden Coach

ELKINS, W. VA., June 29—(By the Associated Press)—While the death list has not exceeded one today the number of injured in the wreck of a Western Maryland Railroad train at Limerock today had grown to 51. The man who was killed was Thomas Kosac, of Thomas, a miner.

Of the 81 injured, nine were in serious condition at hospitals today.

These included two members of the state militia and seven miners. The other injured suffered more or less severe cuts and bruises and were taken to Elkkins hospitals for treatment, with the exception of twenty who were taken from the train at Parsons, their destination. Thirty uninjured passengers were also left there.

Men Under Arrest

The wreck occurred when the rear car of the train left the rails. This car contained 105 alleged striking miners who were under arrest charged with taking part in a disturbance at Thomas, last night. Seventy eight of the injured were miners and the others were guards who had been stationed at each end of the special car coming through the mountains.

The car was in charge of Sergeant Bowers of the state police at Elkkins. On the Blackwater grade, near Limerock, a loud report was heard and the car suddenly toppled from the track and rolled down a fifty foot embankment.

Officials of the Western Maryland immediately started an investigation of the accident but at a late hour last night had given no indication of the probable cause.

United States Of China Proposed By Wu As Name Of New China

PEKING, June 29—(By the Associated Press)—General Wu Pei-Fu, dominant figure of northern China, today endorsed the recent suggestion of General Chen Chung-Ming, outstanding leader of the south, that a federal system be adopted for reunited China, patterned after that of the United States of America. General Wu suggested that the reorganized republic be known as "the United States of China."

The majority of the provinces already have signified their approval of the proposal to reunite the country under a federal government at Peking, with each province enjoying rights similar to those accorded the separate states of the American union General Wu said.

The quiet little man who drove the Manchurian war lord, Chang Tso-Lin in rout from the gates of Peking, and recalled to office the constructional president, Li Yuan Hung, declared that sentiment is growing in favor of the United China program with American ideas as its guiding star.

SCARAMOUCHE

by Rafael Sabatini

BEGIN HERE TODAY

To escape hanging on the charge of sedition, ANDRE-LOUIS MOREAU flees from his native town of Gavrilac and delays his revenge on the

MARQUIS DE LA TOUR D'AZAY. There are two motives behind the revenge of Andre-Louis. His dearest friend,

PHILIPPE DE VILMORIN, had been tricked into a duel and slain by the marquis because the noble feared Philippe's "dangerous gift of eloquence." Andre-Louis swore to carry on the ideals of his friend. The second motive sprang from his love for

Grand Prix, St. Louis 1904
Floyd E. Stearnes,
Representative 222 Chillicothe St.

ALINE DE KERCADIOU, niece of the Lord of Gavrilac, who is popularly believed to be the father of Andre-Louis. The profligate Marquis had seduced the girl's hand.

To escape detection, Andre-Louis joins a band of strolling players. He does not wish to appear on the stage, but in a sudden emergency the head of the band,

MONSIEUR BINET, states that he will either appear as Scaramouche or be surrendered as a fugitive from justice.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Now, my friend," said M. Binet, "will you be M. Parvissimus and play Scaramouche tomorrow, or will you be Andre-Louis Moreau of Gavrilac and go to Rennes to satisfy the King's Lieutenant?"

"I yield to your most eloquent and seductive persuasions, M. Binet," said Andre-Louis sweetly.

CHAPTER V

DRESSED in the close-fitting suit of a bygone age, all black, from flat velvet cap to rosetted shoes, his face whitened and a slight curled-up mustache glued to his upper lip, a small sword at his side and a guitar slung behind him, Scaramouche surveyed himself in a mirror and was disposed to be satisfied which was the proper mood for the part.

He bowed to his reflection in the mirror.

"Buffoon," he apostrophized it. "At last you have found yourself."

Ten minutes later the three knocks sounded, and the curtains were drawn aside.

Andre-Louis was assailed with nausea in that dread moment. He attempted to take a lightning mental review of the first act of this scenario of which he was himself the author-in-chief, but found his mind a complete blank. His arm was clutched, and he was pulled violently toward the wings. He had a glimpse of Pantaloon's grotesque face, its eyes blazing, and he caught a raucous growl.

"Clumene has spoken your cue three times already."

Before he realized it, he had been bundled on to the stage, and stood there foolishly blinking in the glare of the footlights, with their tin reflectors. So utterly foolish and bewildered did he look that volley upon volley of laughter welcomed him from the audience, which this evening packed the hall from end to end.

"Name of a name," M. Binet growled, "What will happen when they discover that he isn't acting?"

But they never did discover it. Scaramouche's bewildered paralysis lasted but a few seconds. He realized that he was being laughed at, and remembered that his Scaramouche was a creature to be laughed with, and not at.

A ripple of laughter from the audience had been steadily enheartening him. It was clear they found him comical.

When at last the curtain fell for the last time, it was Scaramouche who shared with Clumene the honors of the evening, his name that was coupled with hers in the calls that summoned them before the curtains.

"IT AMUSES YOU TO BE CRUEL," SAID SCARAMOUCHE.

CHAPTER VI

IT seemed to Andre-Louis in those days that he had found his real career, and not only was he beginning to like it, but actually to look forward to a career as actor-author that might indeed lead him in the end to that Mecca of all comedians, the Comedie Francaise. And there, writing of skeleton scenarios for improvisers, he might presently pass to writing plays of dialogue, plays in the proper sense of the word, after the manner of Chever, Eglantine, and Beaumarchais.

Now, dream though it was, he did not neglect the practical side of it. "You realize," he told M. Binet, "that I have in my power to make your fortune for you."

He and Binet were sitting alone together in the parlor of the inn at Pippac, drinking a very excellent bottle of Volnay. It was the night after the last performance there of "Les Fourberies."

"I will concede it, my dear Scaramouche, so that I may hear the sequel."

And Scaramouche proceeded to unfold a scheme that filled Binet with a paralyzing terror.

"After Redon, Nantes," he said, "Nantes and the Theatre Feydau."

M. Binet choked in the act of drinking. The Theatre Feydau was a sort of provincial Comedie Francaise. "But why not Paris and the Comedie Francaise?" wondered M. Binet, with sarcasm, when at last he had got his breath.

"That may come later," says impudence.

"Eh? You've been drinking, my friend."

But Andre-Louis detailed the plan that had been forming in his mind.

light, and speaking casually, "as long as I am with you."

"Agreed, my dear Scaramouche, agreed. Our chance meeting was a fortunate thing for both of us."

"And now for the remainder of my proposal."

"Ah? And the proposal?"

"Is that you constitute me your partner, with an eloquent share in the profits of your company?"

The decision to which M. Binet finally came was, naturally, the only one possible in the face of so firm a resolve as that of Andre-Louis, who held the trump.

In the end the matter was settled, and the announcement duly made to the assembled company. There were, of course, jealousies and resentments. But these were readily swallowed when it was discovered that the lot of the entire company was to be materially improved from the point of view of salaries.

The one exception was Clumene. Her failure to bring to heel this interesting young stranger had begotten in her a malice which his persistent ignoring of her had been steadily inflaming. She had remonstrated with her father when the new partnership was first formed. She had lost her temper with him, and called him a fool, whereupon M. Binet—in Pantaloon's best manner—had lost his temper in his turn and boxed her ears. She piled it up to the account of Scaramouche.

One day she threw herself in his way as he was leaving the theater.

"Will you tell me what I have done to you," she asked him, point-blank.

"Done to me, mademoiselle?" He did not understand.

She made a gesture of impatience.

"Why do you hate me?"

"We'll talk of Paris after Nantes," he finished, supremely matter-of-fact. "Just as we will definitely decide on Nantes after Redon."

The persuasiveness that could sway a mob ended by sweeping M. Binet off his feet. The prospect which Scaramouche unfolded, if terrifying, was also intoxicating.

"The thing remains possible," said he then, holding his glass to the

Cattle And Meat Rates

Written Into Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Rates on cattle and meats written into the tariff bill with the approval of the Republican agriculture-tariff bloc were ranging generally higher than those in the House measure, were approved yesterday by the senate by very large majorities. Not only did the Republicans vote solidly for the first time since the bill was called up nine weeks ago, but there was the first real split in the Democratic ranks.

Five roll calls were demanded during the day and all showed about the same results. The first was on the rates of one and one-half cents a pound on live cattle weighing less than 1,000 pounds and two cents a pound on such cattle weighing more than that amount and the result was 46 to 35. Senators La Follette, of Wisconsin, and Norris, Nebraska, Republicans who consistently had opposed duties in the bill voted with the solid Republican majority while Democrats, who supported the committee amendment were Ashurst, Arizona; Jones, New Mexico; Kendrick, Wyoming; Pittman, Nevada, and Shepard, Texas.

A determined fight against most of the committee rates was conducted by a small group of Democrats, including Senators Simmons, North Carolina, the minority leader in the tariff controversy; Walsh, of Massachusetts; Stanley, of Kentucky; King, of Utah, and Lawrence, of Ohio.

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron-Feels Years Younger

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people grow old in looks and energy long before they are really old in years. Because, as examinations by physicians have shown an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood, I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks; the results are simply astounding. The roses have come back in my hips and cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel some years younger."

The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by a great many people who have started this "satisfaction or money back" offer on Nuxated Iron. It will make you the same guarantee. After taking the two weeks' treatment of Nuxated Iron, you do not feel and look years younger; we will promptly refund your money.

SMOUTH, OHIO

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I am going on a picnic the 4th of July. My friend and my girl chum and her friend. When I told my mother I was going she said I had to take my little sister along. I don't care for her but we expect to be gone all day. Do you think I should take her along?

A BLONDE.
I think you should have a chaperone, and if your little sister is the only one available, take her along. Little sisters usually see and hear everything that goes on and I imagine she would give your mother a good account of what went on at the picnic.

Dear Miss Dolly—Is there a law to protect the robins and other wild birds? If so the boys on Offshore street near Grant should be made, by the proper authority, to let them alone. They chased the robins in the cemetery with an air gun, and it seems a shame to have these birds killed in such a way. They slug perfectly beautiful and there is quite a variety of them, and if you will please tell me who I can report them to I will be greatly obliged to you. I can't understand why their parents would allow them to do so.

A FRIEND OF THE BIRDS.
Report them to the police, as it is against the law to kill the birds or use the air guns.

Dear Dolly—Could you please tell me how to corn a small amount of beef? I am not sure I would like it and do not want to make very much until I sample it. I would like to know as soon as possible.

MRS. X. Y. Z.
Here is a good recipe. Seven tablespoons of salt, three tablespoons of brown sugar, 2 teaspoons of salt peter five pounds of any good cut of beef, boiled water (cold) enough to cover, let stand five or six days and cook.

Dear Dolly—There is a girl in our neighborhood who has asked me to go places with her, and also wants me for a friend. I have known her for nearly a year, she has no girl friends and no boy friends. Would you go with her or leave her alone? Dolly I am looking for good advice. My friends say I am better off without a friend like that.

WHAT TO KNOW.
You can be nice to the girl whenever you meet her, without chumming with her. It is not a good idea to get too thick with anyone until you are satisfied they are the right kind of people for you to associate with.

A Customer—Inquire at the different music stores and you will get the information you asked for.

Working Girl—The case is being handled the way you suggested, so there is no use giving it any more publicity in this column.

SOCIETY

Immediately following the mid-week prayer service of the Second Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, and in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends from this city and Ironton, the marriage of Miss Enid Claire Howells of Ironton and Mr. Harlan Carter Gibbons of this city was beautifully solemnized.

Rev. Hugh Evans, pastor of the church, officiated, using the impressive double ring ceremony of the Presbyterian church.

The church was beautifully decorated for the ceremony with cut flowers and palms, making a pretty background for the sacred ceremony.

Previous to the service Miss Hilda E. Wells of Ironton, a cousin of the bride, sang very beautifully "Oh Promise Me." Miss Wells, who also served as bridesmaid, sang from the front balcony, instead of the choir loft.

Promptly at half after eight o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's Processional, as played by Miss Anna Cramer, organist of the church, the bride party slowly wended their way down the aisle of the church and took their places at the altar.

Little Miss Virginia Keiser, beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Keiser, of 1210 Fourth street, was flower girl and ring bearer, and was very dainty in a frock of pink organdie. She led the procession, entering the main aisle from the north, and carried two crystal baskets of choice flowers in the various delicate tints, with the rings suspended by white ribbons from the handles of the baskets.

Miss Wells, the bridesmaid, an attractive blonde, was lovely in a gown of orchid taffeta and hat of the same color, carrying Columbia roses. The bride, a brunette type, was very charming in her wedding gown of shimmering ivory satin, trimmed in silver and white satin flowers, with veil of tulle caught with bands of orange blossoms; she carried a lovely shower bouquet of brides' roses.

The groom, Mr. Gibbons, and best man, Mr. O. P. Schumacher, of Ashland, Ky., were in full dress. They entered the sanctuary from the chapel and joined Rev. Evans at the altar where they awaited the bride and her attendants.

The bride's traveling attire included a very handsome suit of crepe knit in French blue and white, with accessories in white. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the parlors of the church. Here congratulations were extended to the happy couple. While the guests were enjoying themselves, the bride and groom slipped away and left for Cincinnati via C. and O.

Miss Howells is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Howells of Park avenue, Ironton. She was educated in that city and Ohio University and was a teacher in the Ironton public schools.

An elaborate dinner was served to the bride party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Keiser, 1210 Fourth street, preceding the ceremony.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the bride's parents and a number of relatives and intimate friends.

The beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Turner of, Stoum Station was the scene of a pretty June wedding Wednesday, June 28th, when their attractive daughter, Miss Mary Josephine Turner, became the bride of Mr. O. A. Triggs of this city.

The Turner home was a bower of beauty with its decorations of varicolored summer flowers, making an attractive setting for the beautiful ceremony, which was performed at eleven o'clock by Rev. John Kemper, an uncle of the bride. In the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the happy couple.

Promptly at the appointed hour, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Madeline Simon, the wedding party marched to the improvised altar arranged in the large living room before which the ceremony was performed.

Two charming young maids, Miss Genevieve Schoonover, a cousin of the bride, and Miss O. A. Triggs, sister of the groom, attended in fairy-like costumes of white organdie, led the procession. They each carried long-handled baskets filled with beautiful flowers, which they scattered in the pathway of the bride. They were followed by the attendants, Miss Agnes Turner, beautiful young sister of the bride, and Mr. Freshel Grashel.

Miss Turner looked charming in a yellow organdie frock trimmed in ruffles of the same material, and carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas.

The sweet young bride was gown in a handsome white georgette dress built over white satin, with trimmings of crystal ball beads. Her bridal bouquet was a shower of sweet peas and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony, a brief reception was held, after which an elaborate course dinner was served. The long table was beautifully decorated with roses and sweet peas and centered with a large three-tiered wedding cake covered with pink and white scroll work, and places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Turner, parents of the bride, Misses Agnes and Mabel Turner, Joseph, Ray Carl, Edgar, Elmer, Ralph and

Molly's Elopement Plan Is Upset

BY ZOE BECKLEY

Carried away by a sudden proposal MOLLY WAYNE has come to the Midvale station to leave on a night train with—

DON MANNING, matinee idol and leading man in the local stock company, who wishes to wed her. She is abandoning her two other suitors, BEN WHEELER, efficient manufacturer, and

BILLY BARTON, young architect.

As Molly and Don are awaiting their train, Wheeler and a woman come rushing toward them.

A T sight of the woman with Ben and hearing her piercing cry, Molly's consciousness all but left her. Don, too, appeared stricken. Only Ben Wheeler remained unaffected.

"Lola, oh—!" stammered Don, "for heaven's sake stop it!"

He tried to take her arms from about him, to still her sobbing repetition of his name.

Molly tried to pity her—she was so cheaply and pathetically gotten up for effect, so obviously of the theater, so fundamentally weak in character, so evidently the desperate woman who throws her whole life into one thing—and sees it leaving her. Without warning, she turned upon Molly:

"You doll-faced little thief, how dare you try to steal him from me! It's I he loves. It's I he promised to share his life with—success—New York—London—the lights—"

A wave of heartick feeling swept over Molly at the words, that had so thrilled her from Don's lips, the promise she thought she alone had inspired.

Curious stragglers from the station platform were closing in upon them, staring. Don Manning, hero of many a dramatic scene, cut no heroic one in this. Despite the handicap, his actor's instinct ruled.

"Molly!" His voice was tense and low. He bent toward her with the glow of sincerity in his handsome face.

"Oh, Molly, every word I've said to you came from my heart. I have every right to love you. What I feel here—With a gesture of simple earnestness he touched his breast—"I can control no more than the lightning. You are all that counts in my life."

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

ONE day Nancy and Nick were playing down by the chestnut tree when Chirk Chipmunk came hurrying along.

"Oh, say, have you heard the news?" he cried, running to the top of a stone and sitting on his hind legs in his excitement. He frisked his tail this way and that just as some people talk with their hands.

"No," said Nancy, "what is it?"

"Come with me, both of you, and I'll show you," replied Chirk mysteriously. "Everybody in Whispering Forest is talking about it, and they're not whispering either."

Off they scampered, the three of them, and finally Chirk stopped at a smooth, grassy place between the blueberry patch and the hazel-bush. "There it is," he whispered, pointing straight ahead.

Nancy's eyes nearly popped out of her head with amazement, and Nick whistled softly. For there was a little new house, with a new shingle beside the door, which said Doctor Sniffles must be inside whenever needed.

To celebrate the thirty-fourth birthday anniversary of her husband, Mrs. Louis Seibert, 3117 Walnut street, entertained with an old-fashioned chicken dinner on Tuesday evening, the guests remaining for a pleasurable evening of music and games.

Those enjoying the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. William Seibert, Castle Hill, parents of the honored guest; his brothers, Julius, Clarence and Earl Seibert, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Seibert, the host and hostess. Mr. Seibert received quite a number of handsome presents.

Promptly at half after eight o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's Processional, as played by Miss Anna Cramer, organist of the church, the bride party slowly wended their way down the aisle of the church and took their places at the altar.

Little Miss Virginia Keiser, beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Keiser, of 1210 Fourth street, was flower girl and ring bearer, and was very dainty in a frock of pink organdie. She led the procession, entering the main aisle from the north, and carried two crystal baskets of choice flowers in the various delicate tints, with the rings suspended by white ribbons from the handles of the baskets.

Miss Wells, the bridesmaid, an attractive blonde, was lovely in a gown of orchid taffeta and hat of the same color, carrying Columbia roses. The bride, a brunette type, was very charming in her wedding gown of shimmering ivory satin, trimmed in silver and white satin flowers, with veil of tulle caught with bands of orange blossoms; she carried a lovely shower bouquet of brides' roses.

The groom, Mr. Gibbons, and best man, Mr. O. P. Schumacher, of Ashland, Ky., were in full dress. They entered the sanctuary from the chapel and joined Rev. Evans at the altar where they awaited the bride and her attendants.

The bride's traveling attire included a very handsome suit of crepe knit in French blue and white, with accessories in white. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the parlors of the church. Here congratulations were extended to the happy couple. While the guests were enjoying themselves, the bride and groom slipped away and left for Cincinnati via C. and O.

Miss Howells is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Howells of Park avenue, Ironton. She was educated in that city and Ohio University and was a teacher in the Ironton public schools.

Mr. Gibbons is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gibbons and is employed in the shipping department at Whitaker-Glensner Co. After the wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons will return to Portsmouth where they will be at home to their friends July 31, at 1407 Sixth street.

An elaborate dinner was served to the bride party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Keiser, 1210 Fourth street, preceding the ceremony.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the bride's parents and a number of relatives and intimate friends.

The beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Turner of, Stoum Station was the scene of a pretty June wedding Wednesday, June 28th, when their attractive daughter, Miss Mary Josephine Turner, became the bride of Mr. O. A. Triggs of this city.

The Turner home was a bower of beauty with its decorations of varicolored summer flowers, making an attractive setting for the beautiful ceremony, which was performed at eleven o'clock by Rev. John Kemper, an uncle of the bride. In the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the happy couple.

Promptly at the appointed hour, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Madeline Simon, the wedding party marched to the improvised altar arranged in the large living room before which the ceremony was performed.

Two charming young maids, Miss Genevieve Schoonover, a cousin of the bride, and Miss O. A. Triggs, sister of the groom, attended in fairy-like costumes of white organdie, led the procession. They each carried long-handled baskets filled with beautiful flowers, which they scattered in the pathway of the bride. They were followed by the attendants, Miss Agnes Turner, beautiful young sister of the bride, and Mr. Freshel Grashel.

Miss Turner looked charming in a yellow organdie frock trimmed in ruffles of the same material, and carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas.

The sweet young bride was gown in a handsome white georgette dress built over white satin, with trimmings of crystal ball beads. Her bridal bouquet was a shower of sweet peas and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony, a brief reception was held, after which an elaborate course dinner was served. The long table was beautifully decorated with roses and sweet peas and centered with a large three-tiered wedding cake covered with pink and white scroll work, and places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Turner, parents of the bride, Misses Agnes and Mabel Turner, Joseph, Ray Carl, Edgar, Elmer, Ralph and

Mrs. Jack Zornes of Carter City, Ky., who has been the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zornes, 3111 Walnut street, returned to her home yesterday after a week's visit.

Mrs. H. L. Wiseman, 3009 Walnut street, will leave in a few days for a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Orle Horr, Battle Creek, Michigan.

NEW BRIDGE COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Appointment of Alan N. Jordan, chairman, William H. Schwartz, W. A. Pepper and John W. Flood of this city and John Morley, Dr. M. W. Meadows and Mrs. Henry Holley of Fullerton as an Ohio River Bridge Committee this morning by President Adam Frick of the Chamber of Commerce following a very enthusiastic meeting of the general Ohio River Bridge Committee of the Chamber of Commerce last night when everyone present spoke in favor of pushing the bridge project to an early completion.

The decision on behalf of the large number of persons present at the meeting last night indicates a willingness on behalf of the citizens of this city and adjoining communities in Kentucky to work hard for the construction of a highway bridge over the Ohio river at this point. While it was expected that some would advise the postponement of a bridge project for several years no mention of such action was made last night, everyone expressing hope that the bridge will be an early realization.

The result of the meeting of the general Bridge Committee last night was a motion passed to have President Frick name a committee that will take charge of all the work in connection with the bridge.

A glance at the Committee shows that all sections of the city have been given representation. Mr. Jordan will represent the West End while Messrs. Schwartz and Pepper represent the central business section and John W. Flood the East End. Messrs. Morton, Dr. Meadows, Warnock and Mrs. Holley will look after the Kentucky interests.

Yes, Right Now
Everyone who took the floor last night at the meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce assembly room said that the time to start the active work on the bridge project was now and not months from now. All said a bridge was badly needed at this point and that it would be a big help to the business interests of Portsmouth.

Not only will it help the business interests but also the residents of the Blue Grass State who desire a better means of transportation to Portsmouth. It is also expected to result in the construction of better roads on the Kentucky side of the river. With the building of a bridge a vast territory of natural resources in the Tygart Valley is expected to be opened to development. Just what this would mean to Portsmouth and vicinity cannot be determined until the natural resources there are once tapped, but persons who have been deeply interested in the Valley express opinion that the returns will be big and beyond the expectations of many.

William H. Schwartz, Chillicothe street merchant, was unanimously chosen temporary chairman of the meeting last night and W. S. Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, acted as secretary.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Frick said that it was Mr. Schwartz who first brought the matter of the bridge to his attention after he became president of the Chamber of Commerce.

One of these was from a Pittsburgh concern, he said, which offered to finance the proposition to the extent of $600,000, the citizens to provide $200,000 more. The financing company, under this proposal, will take 60 percent of the preferred stock, 60 percent of the common stock, and 60 percent of the bonds.

The citizens of Fullerton, Ky., and vicinity, have already subscribed $75,000 toward the building of the new bridge, and the sentiment of their representatives last night was to the effect that they would subscribe more.

C. & O. Is Interested
President Frick stated he had communication from many other firms, engineers and bridge contractors, and that he would turn all this matter over to the newly appointed committee. He also reported that the C. & O. Railway Company was deeply interested in the bridge over the Ohio here and could be counted upon to subscribe heavily for bridge stock when it is once placed on the market.

HIGH SPOTS

OF THE BRIDGE MEETING LAST NIGHT

"The district between Huntington and Portsmouth will someday be the greatest manufacturing center in the world."

"I believe the canal is going to flow into the Ohio river at Portsmouth."

"South Portsmouth and Fullerton will be to Portsmouth what Covington is to Cincinnati."

"The Kentucky territory will have good roads by the time the bridge is erected, if we work together for the common good."

"A bridge across the Ohio here will bring into reality the dream of all of us, 'A Greater Portsmouth.'"

"The Tygart valley is the richest in natural resources that I ever saw. It's development means unlimited possibilities."

"The new bridge will be good for all of us."

Albert Zoellner was the first speaker. He advocated the appointment of a committee to take the matter up at once, and act with the necessary discretion.

Moses Lehman, the second speaker, said, "I favor the bridge. Let's find out the cost and then we can talk about it later. I am willing to donate liberally toward the project."

J. Fullerton, of Fullerton, Ky., speaking next, urged the beginning of the organization as soon as possible. "The sooner you start, the sooner the money can be raised, and the sooner a bridge can be built."

"Don't wait," was the sentiment of John Morton, also of Fullerton, in advocating immediate action.

H. N. Boggs, another of the Fullerton men present, said he was confident the people on the Kentucky side would take more stock than they have now pledged.

D. L. Grimes, local agent of the C. and O. Railroad, stated that he did not think it was advisable to go to Pittsburgh for the money, but thought that it could all be subscribed right in Portsmouth and across the river.

"Strike while the iron is hot," said J. F. Carr, in urging immediate action while popular sentiment was in favor of the building of a bridge.

Jacob Gehres said that he felt such a bridge as the one advocated would materially help business, and advocated the commencement of the project at once.

Others Endorse Project
Dr. W. M. Meadows, of Fullerton, said, "Go ahead with it."

Samuel Horchow said, "I believe it will be good for all of us, for this side of the river, and the Kentucky side. We can always get the money for a good cause, and I am heartily in favor of building a bridge."

Edward T. Reed, a former president of the Chamber of Commerce, expressed the opinion that the subcommittee should make an intensive study, going into the matter very thoroughly, and need the immediate appointment of such a committee.

Floyd C. Fuller endorsed the statement of Mr. Reed, as did W. A. Pepper and T. J. Coe.

Donald Wakefield, speaking of the Tygart valley, said that it was the richest he knew of in natural resources, and pointed out the benefit to Portsmouth when such a bridge will be erected, with sufficient roads on the Kentucky side to insure the opening up of that valley.

Alan N. Jordan, another former president of the Chamber of Commerce, speaking on the subject, said, "I am confident that such a bridge will be a paying investment."

"Some day the region between Portsmouth and Huntington is going to be the greatest manufacturing center of the world. There is five times as much coal in the West Virginia-Kentucky field as in the great Pennsylvania field. Seventy-five percent of this coal will come to the Ohio river between Huntington and Portsmouth. Here we have the cheapest fuel in the world."

"The Ohio and Erie Canal is going through, and I am confident that it is going to flow into the Ohio at Portsmouth. Already we have the money appropriated for a survey."

Prof. C. E. Sherman, of Ohio State University, the engineer interested in our route, says, "If we get the survey, we will get the canal."

"I would advocate the adoption of the Pittsburgh company's offer, with a provision that we can retire the preferred they will control, and eventually Portsmouth common stock holders, will control the project. It is bound to pay."

Robert S. Glover, Fullerton, spoke for a few minutes, urging those present at the meeting last night to use their influence in the coming election on the good roads levy in Greenup county, which will take place Saturday, July 1.

George D. Selby was the last speaker. He stated that from what he had heard of the Pittsburgh offer he was inclined to believe that it would simplify the matter, if it was made "in good faith and reasonably."

D. A. Grimes made the motion authorizing Mr. Frick to appoint the committee, which he will probably do in the next day or so.

CONGRESSMAN KEARNS

After being warmly greeted by his many friends and acquaintances here and satisfying himself that his political fences here were secure, Congressman C. C. Kearns left today for Cincinnati, where important business matters demanded his attention immediately.

Discussing affairs at Washington, Mr. Kearns said that Congress was plugging away and that the summary would show that it had accomplished a great deal. He had the highest praise for President Harding and declared he was proving the right man for the job, and it is some job, too.

Mr. Kearns feels deeply about the Muscle Shoals proposition, for which Henry Ford has submitted a proposition. He says he does not see where in the United States, after spending more than a hundred million dollars on the Muscle Shoals property should hand it over with a bonus to any man. Mr. Kearns thinks the government should derive some revenue from the great property, and, if necessary, to spend money to get it in shape, should be repaid by the rentals.

Family Reunion Is Enjoyed

Quite a happy and interesting day was spent at the old home place of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Blaine of Firebrick, Ky., Sunday, June 25, when the children and grandchildren gathered at their home nearly one mile west of Firebrick to reunite and celebrate the birthday anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine.

The family is one of rare exceptions as the father and mother and all twelve children are living. Mr. Blaine moved to the farm which he now owns over forty-five years ago. He has resided there since. It was here his family was born and reared. The father and mother both are enjoying fair health and are able to attend to their daily tasks.

In the afternoon the father and mother and children were arranged in the same place in front of the house where their pictures were taken many years ago, and was again taken by a special photographer from Portsmouth. Much time was spent during the day reviewing old photographs and the younger days.

At the noon hour dinner was served to the fifty-eight relatives as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Waddell of

Rushtown, O. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff

Smith of St. Paul, Ky., Eldridge

Blaine of Portsmouth, Levi Blaine, at home, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of Rexton, Ky., Mrs. Martha Burton of Firebrick, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. James Blaine of Firebrick, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Will Blaine of Portsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sanders of St. Paul, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. James Deen of Amanda, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wright of Lancaster, O., and grandchildren, John, Charles, Mary, Marion, Archie, Eliza, and Ada Smith, Roberta Wright, Mrs. Earl Kirkendall and husband, Francis Deen, Helen and Olive Burton, Roscoe Blaine and wife, Beulah and Mildred Blaine, Kenneth Blaine and wife, Thelma, Calvin, Irene and Levi Blaine and also a great granddaughter, Hazel Blaine, daughter of Kenneth Blaine.

Others present were the brother and sister of Mrs. Marion Blaine and their husband and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hays of Vanceburg, Ky., and children Harlan and Evelyn Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Christie of Black Oak, Ky., and the following guests: Miss Rachel Little of Indiana, John Honaker, and Miss Nellie Nolder of Portsmouth.

Many of the relatives returned home in the afternoon while others remained for supper and to visit the ones close to the old home place.

INSPECT FIRE STATIONS, HOSPITAL

A delegation of city officials headed by Safety Director S. Straus made an inspection tour of city fire stations and Hempstead hospital Wednesday night and at the finish members of the party highly praised the excellent manner in which these institutions are being conducted.

The Councilmen had nothing but words of commendation for the manner in which the firemen and nurses did their work, and expressed their entire satisfaction with the condition of the hospital, the nurses' home, the fire department quarters and fire fighting apparatus. They found the fire engine houses newly repainted throughout, and at the Gallia street house found an addition to the building and a new workshop. The painting and the construction of the additions were done by the firemen themselves and they took great pride in showing their visitors what they had done.

While the inspection party was at the Seventh street company, an alarm was sent in from the corner of Fourth and Market streets and 65 seconds after the alarm was sent, the big truck was on the scene. In exactly seventy seconds the firemen had the ladder raised to its full height. The East End and Hilltop companies made a run to the corner of Eleventh and Hutchins streets in 75 seconds.

The party found Hempstead hospital newly painted throughout. The kitchen has been moved and a new range has been installed. There have been many additions made to the hospital equipment in the past few months. The record showed nineteen patients at the hospital at the present time.

The party next inspected the nurses' home on Eleventh street, which is a vast improvement over the house formerly occupied by the nurses. The home has been refurnished, all of the furnishings being the best obtainable. There are at the home now, the hospital superintendent, assistant superintendent, bookkeeper, four graduate and eight student nurses.

Those who made the tour of inspection were: Safety Director S. Straus, Fire Chief Robert Leedom, President of Council, Albert Westhorst; and Councilmen, J. L. Kounts, Ed Westphal, James Bauer, Floyd Unger and Joseph Delner.

Vote On Good Roads Bond Issue Saturday

A two hundred thousand dollar bond issue for good roads will be voted upon in Greenup County, Kentucky, Saturday, July 1st.

Citizens of Greenup county are lined up on both sides of the question, and a hot fight is being waged. A heavy vote is forecast because of the intense interest in the issue of the campaign.

Many citizens from Greenup county attended the meeting of the Bridge Committee of the Chamber of Commerce last night, and expressed the belief that the bond issue would carry.

It seems that the contest is not being made against the issue so much as a bond issue, but because various parts of the county are desirous of getting the direct benefit of the bond issue at the same time, and the roads to be repaired cannot be agreed upon by citizens of various parts of the county.

As Robert Glover, one of the men here last night expressed it, “We all want the roads past our door.” The men at the meeting were anxious to have the bond issue passed in order that the roads may be built thus opening up the county thoroughly by the time the new bridge is built across the Ohio at Portsmouth.

CLEVELAND, June 29—Congressman Knight of Akron, one of the Republican candidates for the gubernatorial nomination, will open his active campaign with an address in Cleveland Sunday night. Mr. Knight expects to visit forty cities and towns.

Among the cities Mr. Knight will visit up to August 8, are Portsmouth, Sandusky, Toledo, Findlay, Lima, Columbus, Springfield, Dayton, Cincinnati and Zanesville.

Store Damaged By Fire

A fire of unknown origin discovered shortly before two o'clock Thursday morning caused a considerable loss at a grocery store conducted at 1034 Robinson avenue by J. H. Adams.

Two fire companies responded to the alarm and soon had the blaze under control. The stock was damaged to the extent of about $300 and the building owned by Charles Streuber was also damaged, but not seriously.

Mr. Adams says there was no fire of any kind in the store and is at a loss to advance a theory as to the origin of the blaze.

Hasebeck will insure you.

Candidates Will Speak Here

The Scioto County Republican Club is planning to hold a big meeting July 11, when it will have as guests a number of distinguished visitors, including Congressman C. L. Knight, of Akron, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, Lieut. Governor Clarence L. Brown, a native of Adams county, who aspires to be the nominee of his party for secretary of state, and State Senator Chaffeth of Cincinnati, who is making the race for lieutenant governor.

These three candidates are all reputed to be good speakers and it is anticipated that a big crowd will greet them on their visit here and it may be decided to secure a larger hall for the meeting.

Betsy Ann Had Close Call

SISTERSVILLE, W. VA., June 28—The Ohio river packet “Betsy Ann” narrowly escaped being swept into the “bear traps” at the New Martinsville dam when, in pulling from the wharf, a propeller wheel was broken.

A high wind swept the craft down stream and a ferry boat which went to the rescue was carried along with it. Finally a line was anchored to shore and the Betsy Ann stopped within a few feet of the swift current leading into the “bear traps.”

After New Players

In quest of new material for the finding Indians, Scout Jack McCallister of that team has started on a long trip through the bushes. Jack, who formerly played here, expects to sign up five or six promising youngsters.

EXCELSIORITES DON THEIR BATTING TOGS AND BEAT THE CENTRAL LABOR TEAM, 9 TO 5

Offerings Of Lefty Frebis Are Freely Sampled By Shoemakers

| Central Labor | 4 7 .364 |
| S. & W. | 3 7 .300 |

Game This Week
Thursday, June 29—N. & W. vs. Yelka Lesters.
Friday, June 30—Yelka Lesters vs. Central Labor.

Refusing to be walloped a third successive time, the Excelsiorites came back strong at the Fidelity street arena Wednesday evening and handed the Central Labor outfit a spanking by the decisive count of 9 to 5.

The shoemakers staged a surprise attack right off the reel, slugging the offerings of "Lefty" Frebis with much gusto during the first two sessions when he left the scene after six runs and as many hits had been chalked up by the enemy. Lewis took up the running where the Ripley product left off and finished it out in fair style, although he was struck for six safe blows which produced three additional markers and put the batter clean so far out in front that it was impossible for the opposition to catch up.

Joe Barber on the hill for his gang, although he had pitched a full game the previous evening, was in fine form and he curbed the Toller batters with great ease, mowing them down round after round, and choking them off at times when they became threatening. The shoemaker leader really twisted a clever game and he was given splendid support by his companions both on the field and at bat. Banfield was the chief blinger for the winners, punching out three safe drives and Elmsor garnered two, besides the latter played a dazzling game at the bat.

Kearney contributed the star play of the affair when he made a sensational one-handed running catch by taking Barber's fly to right in the sixth.

Here's the story of the calamity:

FIRST INNING
Schweinsberg walked. Stillwell sacrificed. Lewis singled to right. Schweinsberg scored. Elliott singled to middle. Lewis scored. Dunham fanned after knocking two fouls a mile and a half. Smith flied to right. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

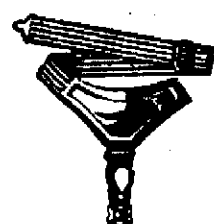

Banfield singled over second. Lowry singled to right. Doherty tripped to center, scoring Banfield and Lowry. Barber's long sacrifice fly to right scored Doherty. Hengen singled through second. Weber walked. Jeanguenat tripped to middle, scoring Hengen and Weber. Elmsor fanned. Martin walked, and died stealing. Five runs, five hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING
Monk was hit with a pitched ball. Grimm forced Monk at second. Frebis flied to Banfield. Grimm died stealing. No runs, no hits, no errors. Banfield singled to middle. Lowry flied to Grimm. Doherty popped to Frebis, who not only nailed the ball but beat Banfield in a race for the bag. No runs, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING
Schweinsberg fouled to Weber. Stillwell walked and stole. Lewis fanned. Elliott singled to middle, scoring Stillwell, but the batter was nailed between first and second and tagged out. One run, one hit, no errors.

Lewis went to the mound and Kearney took up the patrolling of right. Barber walked. Hengen flied to Smith. Barber took second on a balk. Weber was tossed out by Monk. Barber scored when Elliott booted Jeanguenat's roller. Elmsor singled to short. Martin fanned. One run, one hit, one error.

Stillwell rolled to short. No runs, no hits, one error. Jeanguenat fanned. Elmsor singled to center. Cunningham flied to Elliott. Banfield got his third hit, a single to center, scoring Elmsor. McCormick To Sue For Publication Of Gland Grafting Story

CHICAGO, June 29—Harold F. McCormick, head of the executive committee of the International Harvester Company, today announced his intention to sue for libel every newspaper which published the report that he had purchased a gland of another man to be grafted into his own body.

With this as the first count in his libel suits, other counts, he declared, will include charges of telephone tapping, invasion of his sick room, the surrounding of his house and trespass of his property.

It was Mr. McCormick's first statement since he went to the Wesley Memorial hospital for an operation almost three weeks ago, and he made it plain that he was chiefly incensed at the repeated stories that he had taken advantage of the unfortunate circumstances of a fellow man to deprive him of a vital organ.

Shift Fight Scene To Hamilton

HAMILTON, O., June 29—Tut Jackson, Washington C. H. and Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, will fight in Hamilton on July Fourth, at the American Legion ball park. It was announced today by the boxing commission.

The bout will be under the auspices of the Lomax Athletic Club. The preliminary bouts will be started at 10 a. m. and the main bout at 2 p. m. Both fighters are expected here today to take up intensive training for the bout.

COLUMBUS, O., June 29—An announcement that the "Tut" Jackson-Jack Johnson negro heavyweight boxing bout will be staged in Hamilton on the afternoon of July 4 at the American ball park, has raised a question in the minds of local sports fans as to what effect Jackson's participation in the bout will have in connection with the order of Judge Field at Washington, Court House that Jackson refrain from fighting in Ohio for one year.

Jackson is under $500 bond as a guarantee that he will not violate the court's order, which caused Washington C. H. to be abandoned as the site of the battle.

The American Legion ball park at Hamilton will seat 12,000 persons, according to Al Haft, promoter of the bout, who said tickets sold for the bout at Washington C. H. will be honored at Hamilton.

The Turners and Finishers staged a mighty good game last night after the first half of the first inning was laid aside. After that the Turners put across three runs and the Finishers took the last six innings being filled with foul baseball. "Diggy" Burtrum was on the mound for the Turners and pitched good ball, although some nifty fielding at times kept runners from scoring or filling the bases. On the other hand the Finishers made several misplays that let in runs. Cummings, a new box artist, had a hard time getting started, but after the first game he settled down and pitched a fine hand of ball, striking out 7 of the hard hitting Turners. Downs was the hitter of the evening, getting a triple, double and single. The box

ABORIGINE CONVICTED OF MURDER; CLINGS TO TRIBAL RITES

SYDNEY, N. S. W., June 29—The trial and conviction of an aborigine Wongacura, recently on a charge of murdering a woman served to make manifest how closely the aborigines of Australia cling to certain tribal rites.

Evidence at the trial showed that Wongacura had lost his wife and two children through disease. In accordance with tribal superstition, he ascribed their deaths to witchcraft, and his suspicions fell upon a woman named Koulen. He tracked her for several days through wild country and struck her with a boomerang when he encountered her. He then killed her with a spear. Wongacura was arrested after a long and perilous hunt.

At his trial he testified that he had killed Koulen because she had caused the deaths of his wife and children.
